DO NOT WEAKEN

Advertising should be maintained and not cut at this time, when many manufacturers are seriously overstocked, Stanley E. Gunnison, Director, Brooklyn chamber of commerce, writes in the current issue of the chamber bulletin.

"We have come to a period critical in the growth and even existence of many business houses," he says. "Decisions made today will be determining factors in the success or failure of the years to come.

"The greatest and most successful concerns have always been the most consistent advertisers. Mindful of the lessons of the past, they safeguard the present and anticipate the future."

evening. The evening was spent in various games, after which a dainty lunch of sandwiches, pie, pickles, doughnuts and coffee was served. Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. Plahn, Mr. and Mrs. Langston, Mr. and Mrs. Goodrich and family, Mrs. Fred Hueck and daughter, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Donner and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Ford, Mrs. Gillian, Mr. and Mrs. Gannan and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Walker, Mrs. Corey and Miss Lemons, Mr. and Mrs. Mary and daughter, Mrs. Leslie Price, Mrs. Ben Price and son. Each one present reported a good time.

AT THE MOVIES

Madline Travers in "The Iron Heart," will be shown at the Imperial this evening. It's a romance of big business, in which a young woman inherits an iron will. The plot contains machinations and henchmen, traitors and other uncomfortable people, but only enough of them to make it interesting. The story sounds like a pippin and Madline looks the part.

Emma Dunn in "Old Lady 31," which is the Saturday night attraction, ought to be one of the features of the year. It's a love story and a comedy that gets clear away from the flapper type. Captain Abe Rose, imprudent old sea captain, accompanies his wife to an old lady's home, and is known as "Old Lady 31." Things go surprisingly well for a time, but Abe finally rebels and runs away. It's an interesting yarn.

Dorothy Dalton, in "Half an Hour," from the famous play by Sir John Barrie, will be featured Sunday. The heroine of the story is Lady Lillian, practically sold by her impoverished father when she becomes the wife of Garson, a wealthy American. He loves her, but her attitude toward him finally leads him to treat her cruelly and she becomes involved in an affair with an Englishman of her station in life. She is about to run away with him and is at his apartment for that purpose when she learns that he is unfaithful. At the same time news comes of his death in a motor accident. Dramatic events ensue, at the end of which Lady Lillian and her American husband are reconciled.

"Blue Streak McCoy" is billed for Monday. Harry Carey appears in the role of Fighting Job, a border ranger in a small mining town. He spoils a number of good schemes for different people, and winds up the play with an amazing display.

SELLERS KITCHEN CABINETS

"The Best Servant in Your House"

A bowl of hot soup—thick with barley—after a brisk walk in the frosty air. My, how it touches the spot!

But to a hungry man after a day's work, having the soup on time is as important as the soup itself. And speed is what the Sellers Kitchen Cabinet brings you. "Truly it is The Best Servant in Your House." Hold's 300 to 400 articles, arranged so that every item is in the best place.

Getting a breakfast or a dinner is only half the work with a Sellers to help you.

MADE TO FIT ANY modern KITCHEN
Note how well the Sellers is made. Every inch is the result of 28 years of experience. That is why a Sellers Kitchen Cabinet fits into any modern type of kitchen—usually in the place left for the kitchen table.

In this cabinet you find Fifteen Famous Features—combined in no other kitchen cabinet in the world. For example, there is the Automatic Lowering Flour Bin; the Automatic Base Shelf Extender; the Dust-Proof Base Top under the Porcelain Work Table; the Anti-Proof Casters, Steam-Proof Finish, etc. In all there are fifteen. They cost us thousands of dollars extra, each year. In our mind, no cabinet without these features can be a real servant in your house.
